

GNSS Business

“GNSS Business” is a new column in this issue. Business professionals, governmental officers and experts in various fields are welcome to contribute their short-articles to the journal regarding GNSS business survey, user needs, and user markets and applications. In this issue, we invite Mr Robert Lorimer, Positioning One, to provide a summary of a survey conducted recently for user needs for precise positioning services in Australia. The editor appreciates your contribution to this column, along with your comments or ideas for topics for future issues (y.feng@qut.edu.au)